

For these Virtual Championships, you will submit recorded videos of your routines, then DTU judges will score them. The show will be live streamed for FREE with an awards ceremony to follow.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS

After you register for a Virtual Championship, you will receive information on how to enter your routines into the competition. We will provide you with video taping guidelines that will help you get the best videos of your routines.

You will then upload your videos to a private Dropbox folder provided to you by DTU. This link will have an expiration date. If you would like to update your entry, you may upload new videos prior to the time the link closes. DTU will use the most recent video uploads unless you tell us otherwise in writing.

All entries will be sent to our judges to be scored. On the day of the competition, DTU will air a FREE live stream of all video submissions. There will be a master class after the event followed by the awards ceremony. Your awards will be shipped straight to you!

Note that we will need a signed medical waiver from all dancers and coaches before you can upload your video submissions. Feel free to get a head-start on these! Head to our website to access the link to our medical waiver.
